Dear Mr. President:

I beg to remind you that Mr. T. R. Loudon has not yet returned Green: Trusses and arches, pt. 3. My previous letter to you on this subject was dated September 10th.

Yours faithfully,

J. H. Langton

Librarian

Dear Mr. President:

I return the letter from Mr. Loudon to you. Mr. Loudon came to see me last Wednesday and promised to send the book, which he did this morning.

Yours truly,

Librarian

The President,

Dear Mr. President:

Three students are in arrears with fines at the Library. Each of them has had two notices and a letter from me without result. I wrote to the Registrar to see if he could reach them, and to make sure that we had been writing to the proper addresses. I enclose his answer. The addresses he gives are the same that I have been writing to. Will you give them an ultimatum? One of them - Varcoe - is an undergraduate in the Faculty of Law, although a graduate in Arts.

Yours truly,

Librarian

The President,

Librarian,
University of Toronto,
Toronto.

Dear Sir,-

I have your letter of the 13th of November regarding students who are in arrears at the Library. Mr. H. C. Cameron is a Fourth Year student in the Faculty of Arts, who gives as his City address 55 Madison Ave., as stated in your letter. Mr. F. E. Marcoe is a graduate in the Faculty of Arts and his home address according to our records is 374 Huron St. Mr. H. C. I. Hodge is registered in the Faculty of Applied Science and his City address on our records is 394 Dupont St. I have no means of holding up either Mr. Marcoe or Mr. Hodge, nor Mr. Cameron until the examinations next Spring.

Yours very truly,

James Brebner

Dear Sir:

In the absence of the President I have written the three students mentioned in your letter asking them to see you at once regarding the arrears with fines at the Library.

Yours very truly,

Secretary.

Dear Mr. President:

Various students are in arrears with fines to the Library and have paid no attention to notices and a letter from me reminding them that fines must be paid promptly. I wrote to the Registrar when the first cases of this kind were reported to me but he says that he can only reach the students when they have an examination coming on. I think these students ought to be made to realize that fines and other obligations to the Library must be paid promptly. The following is the list, with the date on which I wrote to each.

|                |   |               |
|----------------|---|---------------|
| Varcoe, F. P.  | 374 Huron Street  | November 6th  |
|                | (A graduate in Arts and apparently an undergraduate in Law; probably cannot be reached until he comes up for examination) |               |
| Burness, K. C. | 35 Hillcrest Park Road  | November 12th |
| Hughes, R. L.  | 84 Bedford Road   | November 19th |
| Seymour, M. A. | 142 Bloor Street West   | November 19th |
| Ritchie, F. P. | 329 Bloor Street West   | November 26th |

Yours faithfully,

Librarian

Dear Mr. Langton:

I think that the Committee of the Library should devise some means of dealing with the students who do not pay their fines. I can hardly write to each ~~separately~~. Will you please bring it up at the next meeting of the Committee so that we may discuss it, and perhaps arrive at some solution of what is doubtless a real difficulty?

Yours sincerely,

President.

My dear Mr. Langton:

It was very kind of you to send me a copy of "Nuova Antologia" with the article on "Germany". I should like to know what the author says, but unfortunately I cannot read Italian. What is really the end of Germany from his point of view?

With kind regards,

I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Librarian, University of Toronto.

Dear Mr. Langton:

Many thanks for your outline of the article in "Nuova Antologia". The suggestion is quite an interesting one and possibly has a good deal in it, though one often goes too far in making sweeping generalisations. I have, however, noticed quite a revolt from Germany in the intellectual world. Some Americans have been for some time thinking that they have been over-Germanised. Probably what we have learned the German methods we have learned most that one has to give, provided, that is to say, our own people will work as hard as ours.

Yours sincerely,

President.

"Circumstances often compel us to swerve from the right path and to answer lies by lies. This is the only way to silence the liars. When our soldiers' strong arms have prevailed we shall be glad to return to our habit of strict frankness." This should have been enclosed

went to the President

Dear Mr. President:

I enclose a circular sent to the Library, apparently because we exchange publications with the Society that issued it. You will judge if anything should be done with it.

Dear Mr. Langton:

The Board of Governors and Senate have already signed a circular of similar import issued by the University of Dublin last autumn to the various Universities of the Empire, and I doubt whether there is any necessity of the University as such taking additional action. Perhaps something might be done by the Champlain Society or some Toronto Historical Society.

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Mr. Lanston:

It was very kind of you to take so much trouble in the matter of my proof, and I am exceedingly grateful to you for the suggested corrections which I have sent to Mr. Hamilton, and I hope that they are not too late for insertion. I appreciate also your kindness in verifying quotations. Will you be good enough to thank Miss Lasker for me also?

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
